Welcome!

Welcome to the first Newsletter from adelphicare.org. This site has been established by Christadelphians in Australia to help people in their everyday life.

The overriding principle of the site is that our life is centred around the love of God and our enthusiasm for serving His Son, Jesus. During our life we face significant challenges - some are more difficult than others. This site aims to recognise as many of the challenges as we can from a wide variety of people and circumstances and discuss how they might be met with the assistance of our Heavenly Father.

Structure

You will see that the site comprises two sections – one that looks at life in a kind of chronological order, and the other that looks at life's events that can come at any time. We try to be practical within a God-centred framework.

Personal stories

An important part of the site is the personal stories associated with the life-experiences of our friends. These are designed to show us that – “Hey, people have had similar experiences to me – how did they cope? What did they experience?” In most cases the names are fictitious because many aspects are personal and best not identified with someone we might know. In some cases, the authors have been happy to provide their name. Should you wish to communicate with them, please send a message through the Contact us page of the site. We will forward the message to them.

Would you like to contribute?

If you are a Christadelphian, we would really like to receive your personal story. You can send it to us via the Personal stories page. This will go directly to a retired nursing sister who will forward it to the editor for publication. The nursing sister will be aware of your email address in case we need to contact you, but she will retain absolute confidentiality. Simple guidelines for submission are provided on the page.

Newsletter

A newsletter will be prepared every month or so. It will contain information on the latest additions to the site. If you would like to receive the newsletter with notification of new material, subscribe now by going to the first page of the site and scrolling down to the form to complete.

Young adults, and young families

These are two sections of the website we would really like to develop. If you are a person in these categories, please consider contributing by contacting the editor via the Contact us page or sending an email to the address above. And, you would be very welcome if you would like to contribute to any section.
